

DR. LOMER BACK FROM LIBRARY CONFERENCE

Appointed To Committee For Membership And Bibliography Of A.L.A.

50TH ANNIVERSARY

Special Library Arrangements
For First Year Students at
R.V.C. and Arts Building

Commenting on the fiftieth anniversary Conference of the American Library Association which was held in Atlantic City and Philadelphia from October 4th to the 9th, Dr. G. R. Lomer, the McGill Librarian, stated:

"The concrete results of the Conference are these: an increased professional enthusiasm, a closer co-operation with foreign libraries, the adoption of definite standards of library training, and a closer collaboration in the technical processes of library work."

The American Library Association has a membership of about seven thousand librarians in the United States and Canada. In addition to these most of the European countries were represented at the Conference, as well as China and Japan.

It is worthy of mention that among the delegates from foreign countries were Dr. Guppy, Librarian John Rylands Library, who visited the University Library the preceding week; Hugo Kruss, General Director of the Prussian State Library; P. W. Kuo, of Nanking, China, and K. Matsumoto, Director of the Imperial Library of Japan.

At the various meetings of the Conference addresses and papers were given upon subjects of special interest to those interested in Public and University Libraries. Special attention was paid to the question of inter-library loans. Furthermore, it was stressed that the architecture of Public and University Libraries should be such as to allow for convenient expansion. Methods of cataloguing were examined. Papers also were delivered dealing with the influence, the development and the existing conditions of Libraries.

"One of the days," stated Dr. Lomer, "was spent in visiting the Libraries of Philadelphia, and an opportunity was given to the delegates of visiting the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition."

"Of particular interest," continued the University Librarian, "is the election of Mr. George W. Locke of the Toronto Public Library, as President of the American Library Association for next year. It was decided that the next meeting will be held in Toronto. In this connection it is interesting to recall the fact that Mr. C. H. Gould, the late Librarian of McGill University, was President of the Association in 1908. The University Librarian of McGill is a member of its Committee for Membership and Bibliography."

"During the last summer, Mr. Lomer remarked, the McGill Library School was visited by a representative of the Library Training Board of the A.L.A. and it is hoped that this Library School will soon appear on the accredited list."

Dr. Lomer then went on to indicate the Library arrangements which have been made for First Year students in the Faculty of Arts. "While the Redpath Library," the Librarian explained, "is open to all students of the University, special arrangements have been made this year for students of the First Year. The needs of the R.V.C. students have been provided for in the R.V.C. Library where Miss Margaret MacLaren will be in charge. This is the first time that R.V.C. Library has been under the charge of a special Library assistant."

"Room 20, on the first floor and in the West Wing of the new Arts Building, has been reserved for a Freshman Study Room daily from 2-5 p.m. and from 7-10 p.m. The required readings in English and History will be provided in this room, which will be under the supervision of a Library assistant."

"It is hoped that in this way the former congestion of the Redpath Reading Room for all other students. A four-page folder, giving suggestions on how to use the Library and containing Library regulations, has been printed. A copy is available for each student."

SCIENCE OFFICERS

At a short meeting held yesterday afternoon Science seniors elected their executives for the year.

Chas. Coleman - President.
Lloyd Johnson - Vice-President.
Ross Keens - Sec.-Treasurer.

Bill Gentleman Can't Give Keys In The Morning

The complete transformation that has come over the Arts Building has left not unaffected its venerable guardian, Bill Gentleman, Gentleman, from the dingy little two-by-four room that was invested with the dignity of an office has moved into spacious quarters at the entrance of the new building. Not the least of the innovations introduced by the architects is the small window from 14th office facing the little hall into which you first enter.

As for Gentleman himself he has become a very busy personage, always was an important figure he has now assumed a dignity that can arbitrarily command senior and freshmen alike to appear for a locker key in the afternoons only.

LAW STANDARDS RAISED THIS YEAR

Bar Act of Province Was Amended

FULLTIME WORK

Law Faculty has Been Criticised for Making
Change

Despite the fact that standards in the Faculty of Law have been materially increased this year by putting the courses on a full time basis, no decrease in registration figures has occurred was the statement given out yesterday by a member of the Faculty. By thus basing their curriculum on the assumption that students are devoting their whole time to university studies, the Faculty of Law has fallen in line with the other faculties of the college.

Until the present session the Faculty of Law has conducted a three year part-time course, during which students spent part of their time at the university and part in law office. Such an arrangement was, for obvious reasons, unsatisfactory to all concerned. In order to correct this state of affairs to some extent, at the last session of the Provincial Legislature the Bar Act was amended to the effect that in determining candidate's eligibility to practice law in the Province three years study in a reputable law school together with one year of full time in a law office will be taken as the equivalent of three years of part-time study.

The Faculty of Law, in making this radical change, have not escaped adverse criticism it was stated. It has been accused of offering courses of an impractical nature. While there may be some truth in such criticism the Daily was informed by the executive of the Law Faculty is convinced that the true purpose of a law school and the way in which a school may best serve the interests of the profession, is to give its students a thorough training in the nature and origin of law, leaving the individual to acquire practical knowledge himself. The Faculty appreciate that in the profession of law, as in everything else, an understanding of theory is essential to intelligent application.

AMERICAN CLUB REORGANIZES

To Hold Smoker and Entertainment Shortly

About forty members of the American Club turned out at the first meeting held in the Union Ballroom at 5 p.m. yesterday.

Last year's president, F. S. Pulrang, opened the meeting by calling for a general discussion as to what plans should be made for the coming year. It was agreed by all present that a general meeting should be held; that this meeting should take the form of a smoker and entertainment at which election of officers would take place. It was also decided that the plans for the year would be outlined at the following meeting.

A committee was chosen to arrange a program for the following year. The following men were selected: N. C. Rogers, (medicine), T. Graveline, (arts) B. Janitz (medicine) and E. Hamilton. The meeting then adjourned.

NO HAZING AT TEXAS

Austin, Tex. Oct. 12.—(By Exchange Service)—There will be no more parades or public spanking of freshmen at the University of Texas for "public" hazing of yearlings has been banned. No mention has been made of "private" hazing and it probably will go on with greater enthusiasm.

FALL FROLIC FEATURES NEW CABARET IDEA

Tickets For Friday's Dance On Sale
Now At Union

STARTS SOCIAL SEASON

Original Cloud Effect Part of Novel Decorative Scheme
—Gross' Band

The cabaret system of formal dances is to be the outstanding feature of the "Fall Frolic" which opens the social season this Friday evening. In addition to the elaborate decorative scheme, small tables will be grouped about the hall and ball room and these will accommodate each party for the entire evening. The "Frolic" will be the first formal gathering ever to utilize this type of entertainment at McGill. Tickets went on sale for this hop yesterday noon, and judging from the demand for them, the Union House committee feel assured that the frolic will prove an undoubted success. Comfort for the attending guests must be the primary consideration, so, only a limited number of pasteboards are available.

Several sub-committees are applying themselves assiduously to the task of completing the decorations, which will present for the approval of those attending, a most novel electrical effect consisting of an expensive lighting system whereby a genuine sky of moving clouds will play on a blue diffused ceiling throughout the evening. An original scheme, in addition to the lights, is being effected for sitting-out places of which there will be ample.

There is no need to mention anything further regarding the musical aspect of the dance, for McGill's own famous band, Freddie Gross' aggregation, which has just recently returned from a successful playing tour of Europe, is to handle the well-balanced programme of dances.

Another outstanding part of the affair will be the typical midnight supper being arranged by Pierre. Heretofore refreshments at such functions have been the rigmorale type, but it is promised by this exact caterer that things will be far in advance of former occasions even to the extent of fashions. PREFERS TO TEACH MCGILL STUDENTS

Dr. Bisson Joins French Department at McGill

"The prospect of teaching a class that has had at least a fair grounding in French is much more pleasant than what I had to look forward to in Toronto," stated Professor Bisson the newest addition to the staff of the French Department at McGill University, to a Daily Reporter yesterday.

"I have been in Canada for nearly four years now," stated Prof. Bisson. During that time I have had experience in two of the great universities of Canada. My first year I spent at Queens; from there I went to Toronto University, where I remained until I was called to McGill."

Prof. Bisson speaks English with fluency. He was brought up in Bretagne, one of the provinces of France, and spent much time in the English University there before he came to Canada. Although only in Montreal for a very short while, as yet, Prof. Bisson has nothing but good to say of his future actions. That McGill University seems to have a peculiar appeal to him, he stated and that he will like his third large Canadian university just as much as the previous ones.

"At any rate, my work will be considerably easier," continued the Professor, "for I must admit that the prospect of teaching a class which has at least a fair grounding in French is much more pleasant than what I had to look forward to in Toronto. I have already been to two or three classes here, and I am surprised at the facility with which the ordinary High School Graduate understands and converses in French. I cannot say that they are fluent, but at least they know more about the ordinary conversational French than the average student in the same class in Ontario, who has, for the most part never in his High School course heard French spoken with ease and fluency by their teacher who is usually an English-speaking man who has acquired a certain

"Tom Jones" To Be Produced By Choral Society

That the forthcoming production of the opera "Tom Jones" will be an epoch making event in the history of the McGill Choral Society, is the hope expressed by an official of that club. "The choral society hopes to make "Tom Jones" a credit to McGill. The opera is one that will delight the most severe critic," he said.

Many new members were attracted by the opening meeting, but it is stated that many more are recently required. All interested should join at the next meeting as the music for the opera is about to be purchased, and it is necessary to know how many copies to buy. As progress is greatly hindered by people who join after the first few practices all those who intend to should appear at the next meeting on Thursday at 8.00 p.m. in the Conservatorium of Music.

SCARLET KEY TO ENTERTAIN SICK

Will Hold Tea Dance After Queen's Game

MILLEN CHAIRMAN

Reports of Expenditure on Entertainment of Toronto
Team Read

That the Scarlet Key Society should pay friendly visits to sick students in the various hospitals was one of the resolutions unanimously passed at the meeting of the Society held at 8 o'clock yesterday evening at the Union. It was felt by many of the members that sick students had a rather lonely time of it, and that it was one of the functions of the society, as an hospitable organization, to make all sick students feel that their fellow students cared for their welfare. In pursuance of this idea, arrangements were made to find out the names of all those who were sick and in what hospital they were.

As a means of entertainment of the Queen's players, and also incidentally to raise some much needed revenue to carry out their programme for the year, it was decided to hold a tea-dance on Saturday night, November 6, at which the Queen's team would be the guests. The price of the tickets was fixed at $2.00 per couple. The arrangements for the dance were put in the hands of a committee under the chairmanship of Boyd Milten.

Final arrangements were also made at the same time for the entertainment of the visiting University of Lenoxxville team when they arrive in Montreal today to play the Intermediates.

Several members of the society did not return this year and the necessity of filling their places arose. After some discussion it was decided to have several men nominated and then the society would pass upon their eligibility.

An itemized list of the expenditures in the entertainment of the Toronto team last Friday was placed before the Society. This list showed that more money had been spent than there was money in the treasury to meet it, but since the Athletic Association pays half of the expenses of entertainment there was no difficulty there.

"The matter of plus for the members of the Society was shelved until the next meeting which will be held on the first Tuesday in November."

LECTURE ON CHINA AT R.V.C.

Mr. Hall of the Student Volunteer Movement will give Talk

Tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock in the R.V.C. Common Room the opening meeting of the S.C.A. will hear Mr. R. O. Hall of England.

Mr. Hall was, for a number of years, the Student Volunteer Secretary of the Student Christian Movement in England. He was a delegate at the World Conference of the S.C.M. in China in 1922, and recently revisited the Orient on his way home.

Mr. Hall's address will be based on his work and experience in China. This subject should be of great interest to all students, especially to those who have watched with any degree of anxiety the recent happenings in China.

In addition to the address by Mr. Hall, an outline of the programme for the session 1926-27 will be presented to the meeting.

All McGill women students are invited to attend this meeting, and a special welcome is extended to the first year.

R.M.C. CADET MEETS DEATH ON GRIDIRON

Dies Yesterday From Injury Received
On Monday

CADET THOMAS SMART

Game Against Royal Military College Scheduled for Saturday Cancelled

The football game against the Royal Military College scheduled for this Saturday afternoon is cancelled. The news of cancellation came from Kingston following closely upon the arrival of word of the unfortunate death of Cadet Thomas Smart following rugby practice Monday afternoon.

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 12.—Gentlemen Cadet Thomas William Smart, R. M. C. son of Colonel V. I. Smart died here this morning following a fatal injury received at rugby practice at 4.30 Monday afternoon. Death occurred at 8 a.m. today.

With five minutes to go in a practice game, between the first and second teams, Cadet Tommy Smart tackled a player on the opposing side and as a result, broke his spinal column.

Cadet Smart was examined while on the field, but his injuries were not thought to be serious. However, since he was unable to move his body below the waist, he was at once removed to the college hospital. Later in the day Cadet Smart was removed to the Kingston General Hospital, where an X-ray examination revealed the fact that he had a broken back.

While in the hospital, Cadet Smart apparently did not realize the seriousness of his condition, and was laughing with his fellow cadets and explaining exactly how the fatal tackle took place. Later in the evening however, he suffered acute pain and lapsed into unconsciousness.

The father of the deceased, Col. V. I. Smart of the Economics Department of the Canadian Railways was immediately notified and hurried to Kingston arriving in time to be at his son's bedside during his last hours.

The Athletic Board of Council at McGill has not yet arranged a game for Saturday, though it is possible that Balm Beach may be brought here for the occasion.

ERROL AMARON TO LEAD STUDY GROUP

Many Noted Leaders on
S.C.A. Schedule

Errol Amaron, President of the Student's Council, is to take a lead in the S.C.A. study groups, it was announced last night, when the schedule was posted. Another leader is the Rev. R. Hall who has been taking a post-graduate course at Oxford, and Reg. Smith, S.C.A. President, will also take a group.

The Student Christian Association of McGill announced its schedule of study groups for the winter session last night. Tom Davies, the group convenor, enumerated both the various groups and their leaders. The majority of groups will begin on Tuesday next, Oct. 19th at 7 p.m., and it has been considered best to hold all the groups on the same evening so that on occasion they may all unite in a common group or forum.

Former leaders have expressed their willingness to continue and two others have been invited. These are Rev. R. Hall and A. C. Bunce. The former has within the last few months returned from Oxford, Eng., where he had been pursuing post-graduate studies, having won the Travelling Fellowship at the United Theological Colleges at McGill in 1924. The latter, A. C. Bunce, graduated with honors and medal from the University of Saskatchewan this spring. He is well known in S.C.A. circles as the National delegate to the World's Student Federation Conference held in Europe 1925 and his interest in world matters is intense.

Errol Amaron has asked to take "Facing Student Problems", a matter on which he is an authority. Reg. Smith will lead the thought in the interpretation of Fosdick's "Meaning of Prayer."

The following is the schedule:—
A study of S. H. Hooker's "Christ and the Kingdom of God." Rev. R. Hall.
A study of Bruce Curry's "Facing Student Problems." Errol Amaron.

Law Students Not To Have Use Of Phone

Edward McCaffrey was elected president of Law '29 at a meeting of the freshman class held yesterday morning. D. Heeneey was elected secretary, while the position of treasurer went to Josef Dalgneault.

The proposal to install a telephone in the Law Building for the use of the undergraduates was defeated at a meeting of the Law Undergraduate Society held yesterday morning. The motion had previously been brought up and passed upon, but a petition was circulated claiming irregularity in the procedure of the first meeting and begging that a second meeting be called. This meeting threw out the proposal to establish telephonic communication.

REGISTRATION HAS INCREASED AGAIN

Returns Greater in Arts, Science and Commerce

FEWER MEDICALS

Returns From Macdonald College Expected to Provide a Surprise

The Registrar's returns this year show that over 2,600 students have registered at McGill. Forty or more than last year have enrolled in Arts, Applied Science, Commerce and Social Studies returns are expected from Workers have also increased their roll Macdonald College where registration is not yet complete, but Law, Dentistry and Medicine have decreased.

The faculty registrations are complete to date in all except the Conservatorium of Music, the school for Graduate Studies and Research, and the registration at Macdonald College. Both the School of Music and Macdonald College promise to have great returns this year than in the preceding session, so that basing our calculations on last year's figures in these departments, the total number of students enrolled at McGill this year should exceed the last session's enrolment by about 70 names. The registration last year was 2565 while this year there will be more than 2,600 names on the lists.

Despite rumours to the contrary, the registration in Arts has increased 1002 undergraduates taking lectures by about 40 students, there now being in this faculty, in contrast with 962 last year. The registration has also increased in Commerce, in the School Workers, and in the Faculty of Science. On the other hand, the number of students in Law, in Dentistry, the faculty of Medicine the department of Physical Education and of Pharmacy have a decreased registration. The increase in the Department of Commerce slight in view of the fact that last year there was no graduating class.

Registrations at Macdonald College at Ste. Annes de Bellevue is on the increase. The figures from this source are not as yet known. But indications are that there will be a rather startling increase. The Conservatorium of Music is another department which seems to show a great deal of progress in the last year. Figure for this department are expected today.

FORTNIGHTLY TO APPEAR AGAIN ON THE CAMPUS

Canvassers Are Now Taking
Subscriptions

PRICE SAME

Journal to Appear Wednesdays Instead of Fridays as Formerly

The McGill Fortnightly Review will once again appear on the campus within a short time, it was stated by the Editors last night. The Fortnightly, the university literary undergraduate paper, which came into existence last year as a result of the discontinuance of the Library Supplement, met with such marked favor amongst the members of the staff, the students and general public, that the Editors felt encouraged to launch forth on a second year of publication. The paper this year will appear on Wednesday instead of Friday as was the custom last year. Student canvassers are now actively engaged in taking subscriptions.

The Fortnightly which is an independent paper of literature and student opinion was founded last year by a group of undergraduates to provide a medium for literary expression at McGill. Both staff and students thus found in the Fortnightly a vehicle for prose, and poetry.

The year the Journal will appear on Wednesday mornings instead of on Friday morning because Wednesday is the heaviest day for lectures for most students.

The general policy of the Journal adopted last year will be followed again this year, the editors stated.

The system of delivery that prevailed last year will continue. Copies will be distributed in the various buildings by the janitors or will be mailed to the homes if so desired, continued the editors.

The following are taking subscriptions for the Fortnightly at the rate one dollar for the college year.

Arts '27. Leo Edel, Louis Schwartz, P. Matthams, S. Hayes, S. J. Simolwitz.

Arts '28. K. Talpis.

OLD SCOUTS CLUB OUTLINE ACTIVITIES

Members to Partake in Gillwell Training Course

The members of the Old Scout's Club will partake in the Gillwell Training Course as well as in many other activities it was definitely decided at a meeting of the Old Scout's Club held in Strathcona Hall last night.

After the camp supper P. Matthams the president gave a short report of last year's work and outlined the activities for the coming year.

The meetings which will be held on the first Tuesday of each month will consist of debates and other topics dealing with scout work.

It was stated that the club will hold their annual hike sometime during the month.

At the clubs next meeting on Nov. 2nd a talk will be given on flags and their formation.

MONTREAL, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1926.

THE PESTIFEROUS ALUMNI.

Under this suggestive title Percy Marks, notorious for his contribution to the literature that depicts college life, deals with the problems arising in the relation between the alumni and the college in an article which appeared in a recent issue of Harper's Magazine.

He tells the story that several college presidents were discussing what they would do after they retired. What would they be fit for was the question. Well, said one of them, "I don't know that I'd be fit for anything, but I know what I'd like to do. I'd like to be the superintendent of an orphan asylum so that I would never get any letters from any parents."

"I've a much better ambition, exclaimed another, I want to be a warden of a penitentiary. The alumni would never come back to visit."

Mr. Marks is concerned with the problem as it exists in the American colleges where the continued interference of graduate societies in the administration of University affairs has rendered the lives of many college heads unbearable. Especially do the alumni manifest an insatiable desire to control the athletic policies of their alma mater and in this there is no bounds to their enthusiasm. There can not be enough of rah-rahing and blatant exhibitions of organized cheering to satisfy their hungry souls.

This tendency in American education is to be deplored. While pretending an appreciation of the spirit behind this enthusiastic interest in the affairs of their alma mater, university heads should not permit themselves to be intimidated by blustering alumni. The graduates who have passed out of the active arena of undergraduate activity have not the right in the administration of the college; they may not dictate the policies of the university of which they no longer form an integral part.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

One little incident of the football game of last Saturday which should not be left unnoticed, happened on the arrival of the Toronto team. Just as the men reached the field they gathered together in a little circle and gave a hearty McGill yell, followed by their own Toronto yell. We have never seen a more cordial expression on the part of an opposing team which was just preparing to fight its hardest.

It is little things like this that stand out as examples of real sportsmanship long after the cheering has died away. Some years ago in an Intercollegiate Harrier Run, a McGill man saw his Toronto opponent making a wrong turn in the course through a misunderstanding; he showed the Varsity man the right track and lost the race by doing so. But he won something far greater than a race — he won his spurs as a true sportsman. Incidents redounding to the glory of the several college teams in various branches of sport might easily be multiplied, and more graphically portrayed; all that we aim to do however, is to point out that they show the right spirit of sport which is to "Play up, play up and play the game!"

THE BOOB OF THE COLLEGE.

Who is the boob of the college?

One year ago a now famous freshman in a now famous moving picture was anxious to make everyone at his university his friend. Approaching his fellow students he made a rapid shuffle with his feet and said, "Step right up, kid, and call me Speedy."

He was the boob of his college.

Who is the boob of McGill?

The boob of McGill is a student who on arriving at college engaged in every activity that opened its arms to embrace him, believed ardently in college spirit, attended every rooters' practice, missed all his nine o'clock lectures, attended every athletic contest his five dollars worth of tickets admitted him to, and forgot to register in the Library until near Christmas time.

Are you the boob of McGill?

Sonnet To A Lady Whom I Bored

IF you have wooed the feet of grey Despair
When I have wildly praised one, Chesterton;
Deeming grave dunces these, who everywhere
Write their sad prosiness and dreary pun.
If you have lost a sigh in your pale hand
And stayed your patience seething in duress,
And have not quoth the thoughts at your command
But only tapped your shoe, or smoothed your dress—

Lady there is a martyrdom of earth
That merits well, a bookless place in heav'n;
You will have found the weariness well worth
The paradise—For I'll not be in heav'n!
But buried in a dark with noise and rooks,
Blind bats, and toads, and things, and mouldy books.

The Province of Quebec

The current number of The American Review of Reviews carries an article by Professor Wm. W. Goforth of McGill University, entitled "The Province of Quebec—A Survey of Social and Economic Conditions." Doing much to destroy several prevalent misconceptions regarding this province, and stating in concise and definite form much information known hitherto in but a hazy way to the average non-resident of Quebec, the article has the added advantage of being fairly comprehensive. It covers among other things geography, history, political institutions, trade and commerce, transportation and language.

The large amount of rot that has appeared from time to time in books especially prepared to attract the tourist to Quebec has been instrumental in giving to the outsider, particularly to the American, an entirely wrong idea of this province. Quebec has all the attractions necessary for tourist traffic without it being necessary for zealous propagandists and publicity agents to imply in their brochures that we are residents of a backward or even semi-civilized state, and that the great majority of our inhabitants speak a hurried and incomprehensible patois. One of the points ably cleared up in Mr. Goforth's work is that concerning the French language as spoken in Quebec.

For the rest, the article analyses carefully many of the provincial industries, dealing carefully with their development and relative importance in the Province. Especially emphasized are the vastness of Quebec's territory and the rapid increase of her population.

In a separate article, in the same journal, Professor Goforth, along with Dr. Stephen Leacock, gives a thorough explanation of the Quebec Liquor Law. This article, it is hoped will have the effect of robbing the American of the guilty look he invariably possesses when making his exit (with a bottle) from a branch of the Quebec Liquor Commission. He will be able, after reading this statement to drink his fill with a clear conscience, if not a clear head.

The local press has commented very favorably on Professor Goforth's article, Le Devoir being particularly loud in its praise. This newspaper says in part:

"L'American Review of Reviews vient de publier dans sa dernière livraison un solide article de M. William Wallace Goforth, professeur d'économie politique à l'université McGill—les Américains et les Anglo-Canadiens mémo—pourront se renseigner sur notre province, notre langue et notre instruction en lisant et en relisant l'article de M. Goforth."

PREFERS TO TEACH MCGILL STUDENTS

amount of book-learning in French, but very little conversational ability. Even the course in the University itself hardly gives time to a professor to make the student speak the language, as the curriculum gives too much attention to literature, which would be much more easily learned if the student had a certain knowledge of how to speak French. Here I find that the curriculum is well-arranged, about one-third of the time being given over to oral work."

"I find a great deal of difference between the English and Continental universities, with which I was in intimate contact before I came to Canada, and these Canadian, or I may say generally these new-world universities. Here there seems to be too prevalent an idea that a university is a very good finishing school. As a result, people come to university who have absolutely no aim in doing so, and therefore who would be just as well out of such an atmosphere. A university student must have an aim, and I do not believe that this aim should nearly always be of a technical nature, as is too often the case in this rather commercially inclined Continent."

Another difference which I find between the American and European Universities is the great extent of student self-government which American students enjoy in comparison to the European student. I think that this is a very good thing, but of course it is part of the inborn ideals of people over here. Of course the prevalence of college dormitories and residences in Europe has a lot to do with it, for of course in this case the college authorities must exercise all their rights. As a whole, I like extracurricular activities as they are carried on here. College papers, athletics and all the different societies which you have are very useful to the well-being of a student."

MCGILL MAY HAVE BROADCAST STATION

Radio Association Holds First Meeting Tomorrow

The possibilities of McGill having a broadcasting station of its own once again will form the main topic of discussion at the meeting of the Radio Association to be held tomorrow afternoon at 5.00 p.m. in the Engineering Building. Elections of the officers for the club will be held at the meeting.

The Radio Association of McGill offers to its members all that any radio club does, and in addition many special advantages derived from its position in the University. Thus the Electrical Laboratory of the Engineering Building, where the Association's apparatus is kept, is open to members for research work; and many notable lecturers in the faculty of Applied Science gives addresses before it.

It is now some time since the Association was formed with the object of collecting all those members of the University interested in the subject, and it has progressed steadily ever since. Among the features of the meetings are visits to city broadcasting stations; informal talks, sometimes by University professors, sometimes by Montreal amateurs, and sometimes by members; and discussions of current problems and practices in radio. But these are not all the functions of the club. Under its auspices an apparatus exchange and a code class have been instituted. It owns a considerable amount of apparatus both for receiving and transmitting, most of which has been donated by various Montreal firms, such as Marconi Co., and the Northern Electric Co., and in the past it has run station 10 AV so successfully that applause cards have been received from places as far distant as the West Indies. Jazz teas at the Union Cafeteria have been a feature in the past, and among the more weighty operations it is interesting to note that its members have done much research work, notably into the causes of fading.

The club offers great advantages to all interested undergraduates to assemble to discuss their hobby, and in its varied programmes there will be found items to interest everyone from the veriest trio to the most advanced experimenters. The executive hope that more students than ever will avail themselves of its facilities this session and are particularly desirous of seeing all the freshmen interested in the subject at the opening meeting.

In Arts the registration is 1002, in Physical Education 53; in Commerce 205; in Dentistry 56; in the School for Graduate Nurses 20; in the School for Social Workers 28; in the Department of Pharmacy 25; in Medicine 466 and in Applied Science 333. The figures are not yet complete in the School for Graduate Studies, in the Conservatorium of Music and in the registration at Macdonald College.

"Hell-Roarings," the scene of a dramatic incident in John Murray Gibbon's new novel "Eyes of a Gypsy" is the actual name of a remote valley in the Canadian Pacific Rockies as known to the guides and hunters, although the Geographic Board of the Canadian Government has just changed it to a less romantic name—"Nanna Creek." The reason for the change in name is that there is another Hell Roaring Canyon in the Rockies which claims a prior right to the name.

Looking Backward

Thirteen years ago today, Oct. 13, 1926 Today's Daily resounds with praise of Bill Hughes, McGill's new inside wing, for his splendid fight he put up against Queen's Saturday.

It is understood that R.M.C. will not protest the playing of Charlie Gage, Toronto's veteran flying wing in Saturday's game. Game was protested last year during the Intercollegiate assault-at-arms on the grounds that he was a professional.

FABULAE ABSURDAE I

There was once a Sophomore who walked along the sidewalk towards the New Arts Building. He was troubled and said to himself: "Why are Sophomores invariably labelled Sophisticated? Why do we imagine ourselves superior to all others when we are not? How has this come about? And he swore to himself that he would forget that he was a Sophomore, forget that he was Sophisticated. He would be once more innocent of spirit. He looked around him and saw the poetry of everything: above on the sides of the mountain the trees in their autumn dress presented a patchwork of every red and brown; on his right the long shadows (for it was afternoon) reached towards the Chemistry Building; up in front he could see the graceful outlines of the half-hidden Arts Building.....He felt at peace with everything.

But now he was approaching his destination, and from its portals emerged a figure. It descended the steps in a curious manner and came across to the footpath; on its head was a small cap of brilliant emerald.

In a flash the Sophomore's forgotten instincts returned: "Get off that sidewalk, you!" he shouted. His order was obeyed. He strode on, unconsciously throwing out his chest a little and stiffening to make the most of his inches, and disappeared between the shining pillars. A very sad case.

NOVICE RELAY RACE TO BE RUN FRIDAY

Three-quarter Mile Relay Open Only to Novices
OFFICIALS NAMED

Small Turnout at Track Yesterday, Opportunity for Many More

The entry list for the Interfaculty meet closed last night, and although post entries will be accepted up to the hour of the meet, those who did not sign up last night will have their names left off the program. The list of officials for the meet has been completed, and at the same time Coach Van Wagner announced that a relay race for novices only would be held in connection with the University sports.

The relay race is an innovation and is open only to those who have never been on an intercollegiate team who are of the thirty who are attending Coach Van Wagner's training table. There will be four men to a team, two to run 220 yards, the remaining two to run 440 yards each, thus making the race three-quarters of a mile in length. It is expected that there will be a full entry list for this novel event.

The number of men training at the track has been depleted considerably with the announcement of the names of those chosen to attend training table. Only those named were out at the track yesterday despite the coach's oft repeated statement to the fact that there is opportunity for many who might turn out. The University's best talent is certainly not brought to the fore when there is only one or two competing for each place on the team.

The list of officials have been announced as follows:

- Honorary Referee:- Sir Arthur Currie.
Referee:- Dr. A. S. Lamb, (chief)
F. Consiglio, Hay Finlay.
Judges at Finish:- W. E. Findlay, (chief), Prof. J. C. Farthing, Prof. J. C. Simpson, Dr. C. T. Sullivan, Dr. A. L. Walsh.
Timekeepers:- J. A. Taylor, (chief)
E. H. Bourdon, Louis Rubenstein.
Judges of Jumps:- W. D. Lawrence (chief), W. S. Antliff, E. A. Cushing.
Judges of Weights:- T. Graydon, (chief), Prof. A. J. Kelly, Prof. T. H. Matthews, Prof. S. M. Wood.
Starter:- Dr. W. R. Kennedy.
Announcer:- M. Gaboury.
Scorers:- C. L. Copland, (chief)
J. A. deLalanne, J. L. O'Brien, H. A. Quackenbush.
Field Doctor:- Dr. F. W. Harvey.
Official Surveyor:- W. D. Lawrence.
Inspectors:- J. E. Berleau, Prof. W. V. Goforth.

GIRLS STUDYING IN "LANGUAGE" HOUSES

Wisconsin College has Unique Features

Madison, Wis., Oct. 12.—(By Exchange Service)—Forty-four girls are living in the three "language" houses in the University of Wisconsin this year, and about 150 will be taking some meals there during the year, and practicing at the same time, in their chosen foreign language.

Houses where foreign language is spoken during meal time are one of the unique features of the Wisconsin campus. Wisconsin was the first university to have a French house, and the Spanish house here is the only one of its kind, officials declare. All groups control their houses through holding corporations connected and sponsored by the language departments of the university.

The German house, 508 North Frances street, is the largest in the number actually living there. Eighteen women are lodged there, and approximately 18 more come in for meals. Miss A. B. Ernst '10, is the chaplain. The house has been completely renovated during the summer.

The German house vies with the French house in length of existence, it being started before the war. It was closed during the war, and reopened only four years ago, in 1922. The group hold "open house" at "cafes" every Friday afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock.

The speaking of German is aided by the presence of two university instructors, Mrs. I. Mentz and Miss M. Schrieber, both of whom took their college degrees in Germany.

The French house, 1105 University avenue, has the fewest lodgers, but the most boarders of any of the language groups. Ten American women and two French women live there. Miss Germaine Mercer and Miss Francine are the two French girls, while V. S. Foyard is the chaplain.

The fifty student and members of the French department eat at the house at least once a week. The French house came into being during the wave of popularity for French during the war, at that time "Le Maison Francaise" was located on the Lake. Social events of the year at the

THE CRITICS ANSWERED.

Harry Lee Batstone has made a statement. In it he says that during his four years at Queen's his visions, and perhaps his ambitions, have broadened. We don't know anything about Harry's ambitions, but it is refreshing to hear him say that after four years in college his visions have broadened.

Let the golden words be inscribed over the portals of every athletic field, a crushing answer to those who would claim that a college education is a waste of time.

A LOST CAUSE.

Saturday's McGill-Varsity rugby game had far-reaching results, and strange to say it may affect seriously a kindred sport, the game of English rugby. For some time past there has been considerable agitation, in this university, and elsewhere for the adoption of the English game in preference to the Canadian game now in existence. Many changes have been laid against the Canadian game. It was rough, it required long periods of training, and it was not the spectacle that the English game provided. Let us scrap this silly Canadian game, said the agitators, and raise rugby to the pedestal it now rests on. It will strengthen the bonds of empire friendship, some of them added, as an after-thought.

Enthusiasts of the English game when questioned as to the probability of ever carrying out so ambitious a program are, for the most part, reticent. They agree that the English game is a better one, but they cannot see how, under present circumstances, rugby could be made a major sport in the colleges. The weather, for one thing, is against it. They point out that the unfortunate part about a climate it that you have to regulate your sport according to your weather. A good point. Then, again, there is the question of material. Rugby as played in England is a spectacle with all due respect to local teams, but here is not. Last year, an interfaculty rugby league was organized but it got no further than that. Some of the faculties could not find fifteen men to field a team.

College teams get their material from the prep schools. To raise English rugby to the standard of the Canadian game, it would be necessary to begin in the schools and within a generation, it is quite probable that a fair standard would be attained. The point, is however that most young Canadians want to play the Canadian game, and despite all efforts of those who would like to see the English game adopted, will probably continue to do so. Probably the adoption of the English game would materially enhance empire relations but surely there are other ways to do this than by taking away from the Canadian youth the game that holds his greatest interest.

As for those who would abolish professional coaching in college football and especially at McGill, we have only our sincerest sympathy. Saturday's game sounded the death knell to their hopes.

S.S. DORIC SOCCER TEAM PLAYS MCGILL

Sailors Meet College Squad on Campus at 2.30 Today

The soccer team will play a team from the S. S. Doric on the Campus at 2.30 p.m. this afternoon. Members of the S. S. Doric team kindly consented to play the McGill eleven and a close game is anticipated.

This will be the first appearance of the soccer team against opposition this year, and the game comes at an opportune moment since the first intercollegiate fixture for Saturday against Toronto at the Stadium.

The game today will prove the strength of McGill and will enable the coach to place the newcomers on the team in their proper positions.

A lengthy program is ahead of the soccer squad. Next Tuesday the 19th, the team will make a trip to the United States to play West Point, Yale and Springfield.

The following men are asked to be on hand at 2 p.m. to take part in the game today. Amaron, Giovando, McLeod, Kelland, Helwig, Estall, Watt, Scott, Moffatt, Maule, Gavin, Brain. All players please note that the game today will take place on the Campus and not on the Stadium as previously announced.

STUDENTS PLAY ANNUAL GOLF MATCH WITH STAFF

Royal Montreal is Scene of Annual Competition

The Students vs. Professors golf match will take place at the Royal Montreal Golf Course at Dixie on Friday morning. Those going out by train are urged to catch the 8.25 train at Bonaventure Station. Those motor-ing are requested to get out to the course by nine o'clock, so there will be no hitch in the matches. The list of the matches will be placed in the Daily on Thursday morning. The hearty-co-operation of all concerned is requested.

French house include a party after Homecoming, and a reception for the faculty.

Spanish House

"Casa Cervantes," the Spanish house, 224 N. Murray, is entering its second year of existence on the university campus this fall. Fourteen women live at the house, and between 20 and 30 come to the house to eat and talk Spanish. The number of people who come for meals will be augmented this coming week when Prof. J. L. Russo, starts presiding at his two tables for Italian students.

Miss M. A. Olley, formerly director of Colegio Internacional de Barcelona is the chaperone of the house. Miss M. L. Jenschke of Chile is the foreign representative, and Miss Kathryn Tufts and Miss Esther Lee Gould, instructors in the Spanish department, live at the house.

The house elected officers for the coming year Sunday evening. Iva Silva, '26, was president; Orpha Pearshall, '28, secretary, and Gatrinn Manning, '28, was social chairman. Miss Silva was also named delegate to the W.S.G.A.

MCGILL SECONDS PLAY LENNOXVILLE

Herb Murphy's Team Meets Intermediates at Stadium

The McGill seconds play the second game of the intermediate rugby season this afternoon when they meet the University of Lennoxville squad at the stadium at 2.15.

The McGill line-up is likely to be much the same as last week while Bishops' will probably field the same team which has been twice defeated by Loyola already this year. The game will mark the debut of an intermediate team from the U. of L. on a Red and White gridiron.

McGill, led by Lyall Laishley's kicking, are expected to vanquish the new members of the intercollegiate league but a rugby game is an uncertain affair to say the least and the Red and White supporters may be in for yet another surprise.

The U. of L. team moved up to the intermediate class this fall from the ranks of the Juniors. They have shown themselves to be worthy opponents however and although twice defeated by Loyola, first 7-3 and later 7-5 they are a team to be respected, especially by McGill for they are being coached by no less a personage than "Herb" Murphy of Red and White senior football and hockey fame. His knowledge of McGill methods should serve him and his team in good stead.

McGill fresh from their last week's 5 to 0 victory over U. of M. are sure to fight hard to keep their name out of the loss column.

DEAN WOULD HAVE ALL REDS REPORTED

Indiana Man Talks to Kiwanis On Patriotism

Bloomington, Indiana, Oct. 12.—(By Exchange Service).—"I agree with my pacifist friends that the abolition of war is a consummation devoutly to be wished. I emphatically disagree with them as to the means of achieving that end," said Dean Paul V. McNutt, of the Law School of the University of Indiana and state commander of the American Legion, speaking yesterday before local Kiwanians on patriotism. Exposure and deportation were prescribed as the remedy for Reds.

There are some people in this country who do not agree with my definition of patriotism, who say that what we have been accustomed to call patriotism is nothing but hate, and militant, arrogant nationalism. They would not have you fight to protect your flesh and blood and to defend your homes. They would have you don the cloak of world-wide brotherhood, espouse 'internationalism,' whatever that means, and cast away your national pride," he said. "We have heard much talk about the 'new Americanism' but a careful examination shows the talk to be twaddle and the new Americanism spurious and counterfeit.

"The propagandists of this new 'Americanism,' some of whom are well meaning, some not, are attempting to bring about the abolition of the army of the United States," Dean McNutt explained. "Just now the agita-

PERRY AND HOLT WIN ELIMINATIONS

Jack Frith and McInerney Defeated in Tennis Matches

Two of the ten matches to be played in the tennis elimination tournament, were run off yesterday. In the first match Stan Perry, member of last year's tennis squad triumphed over McInerney, by a score of 6-3, 6-1. In the second F. C. Holt, defeated Jack Frith, 6-2, 6-3.

The tournament is being held to choose out of the five men competing, three to complete the membership of the Red and White tennis team. The team travels to Toronto on the evening of the 20th in an effort to gain their seventh consecutive intercollegiate championship. Jack Wright and Leslie, as finalists in the recent college tournament hold positions on the team. The following five are playing off in the eliminations. Stan Perry, Jack Frith, C. H. Peters, F. C. Holt, and McInerney.

ARTS SURPRISED MEDICINE SQUAD

Vanquished Conquerors of Science in Faculty Rugby

Arts rugby team opened their inter-faculty schedule with a surprise for the fans, beating Medicine, who vanquished the strong Science team, by a 5 to 4 score on the campus yesterday afternoon. Meds were sure of victory from the hastily formed Arts team, but by the end of the first quarter they found that they were up against something good.

The two Artsmen, Urquhart and Mall made nice formation field runs, getting as much as fifty and sixty yards at a time, while Don Smith's ability to run back kicks was very effective. Urquhart made the drop kick in the third quarter, which won the game for Arts.

The score seems to signify a close game but nevertheless Arts had Meds clearly out-played in everything but losing the ball. The tackling of Mall and Crandall gave the Medicine halves very little chance to run back the kicks of Smith and Urquhart.

Meds could not seem to get going on their extended runs, because of poor passing, and did very little kicking.

However they always kept going and put through numerous bucks that the Arts men could not hold and if they had kept tab on the pigskin at the right time they would have made more points. Chisholm put over a neat drop which totalled Meds score.

The Medicine men tried hard in the fading moments to score but were held tight by the determined winners.

Those who oppose to military training fall into two groups. It was explained. One group consists of those who are honestly and really conscientious objectors; and the other group, consists of the Reds of varying shades, some representative of the Third International. It was said, "I have no abuse for the honest and well-meaning 'conscientious' objectors. I respect but disagree with them. BERMUDA BEATEN IN FREDERICTON

Canadian Rugby Team Wins by Score of 25 to 0

Fredericton, N.B., Oct. 12.—University of New Brunswick, MacTier Cup holders, won from the Bermuda English rugby touring team today by a score of 25 to 0. U.N.B. started scoring ten minutes after the start of the game, making three tries in the first half, which ended 11 to 0. Fourteen minutes of the second period went by before the first score of that half and U.N.B. scored three more tries, bringing their total for that half up to 14 points and the game total to 25 to 0. U.N.B. scored seven tries and two were converted. U.N.B.'s line was seldom threatened and never crossed. U.N.B. excelled in all departments of play and especially in their long passing runs. Egbert Cash, Fredericton, was referee. The Bermuda team's management announced this afternoon that they will be unable to return to Upper Canada, although they have invitations to play at Toronto and other cities. Today's defeat was their first loss on their tour. They play the Trojans at Saint John tomorrow and then go to Halifax. After four games in Nova Scotia, they play at Boston and then at New York, whence they sail for home again.

HANDICRAFT GUILD EXHIBITS ON VIEW

Beautiful and Original Designs at Art Gallery

LARGE ATTENDANCE

Guild Founded to Revive Home Art Industries Throughout Canada

Beautiful and original designs in handwork, carefully wrought and ornamented in striking fashions are on display at the annual exhibition of Canadian Handicraft Guild which is being held at the Arts Gallery this week.

That the exhibition is proving a greater success this year than in former years is evident from the increase in attendance. It was stated that over 700 people visited the Art Gallery on the first day.

The collection of hooked rugs and Catalogue exhibited shows a variety of intricate and original designs. There are also displayed many beautiful patterns among the woven fabrics.

Among the finest pieces of work are articles of crochet and embroidery made by foreign immigrants in Canada. These articles demonstrated their skill and workmanship. Many of these are types of Swedish, Polish, Russian, Italian and French Canadian designs.

The bookbinding and wood-carving is represented by various beautiful and artistic examples of the work. The Handicraft Guild has also placed on display brasswork, basketry designs for stained windows and numerous other articles.

The Guild was founded to revive, preserve, and stimulate handicraft work and home art industries throughout Canada.

It encourages new and old settlers in the Dominion to continue using their skill and knowledge in handicraft work and provides a market for the same.

Means are taken to maintain and raise the standard of the work, and to this end teachers and supervisors are sent out to train workers and help to cultivate their artistic ability in the choice of materials, colour, and design.

Prize competitions and exhibitions are organized annually to attract public attention to the unique character of home and handicraft work, and to stimulate the interest and co-operation of the workers themselves.

The Guild, therefore, not only develops thrift and genuine domestic industry amongst craft workers, but also aims to rouse and sustain the interest of Canadians in the arts and crafts belonging to or entering the country.

New members will be cordially welcomed, the annual subscription being one dollar.

WOMEN'S TENNIS SEMI-FINALS

Many to Compete Before Friday's Contest

Unless an unexpected change in the weather takes place the semi-finals of the R.V.C. tennis tournament will be played off on Friday morning.

From present indications a record number of contestants have entered the two tournaments. In all, 63 students have signed up to compete in the singles contest while approximately 36 names are on the list for doubles, this latter being a new undertaking this year.

New students in the college are well represented on the lists, many of whom are showing themselves promising athletes on the tennis courts. Owing to the recent favourable weather conditions the courts have been well filled and there are but few games left previous to the semi-finals. From the reports of referees a general spectators a great deal of enthusiasm is being displayed on the part of the various contestants. It is evident that from the many unexpected results in individual games, there will be keen competition owing to the noticeable improvement in some of the players of one or more years' standing at the university and the enthusiastic display by new students.

We haven't written a novel yet, but here are a few lines we shall include in that work:

WORK PROGRESSING ON DES MOINES BUILDING

Will Cost $125,000 When Completed in November

Des Moines, Iowa, Oct. 12.—(By Exchange Service)—Work is progressing rapidly on the new $125,000 Alumni and Patrons' Physical Education Building for Des Moines University, and according to reports it will be nearly completed by Homecoming, which is Nov. 5th. In any case it is to be finished in time for the 1926-27 basketball season.

Business men in Highland and Oak Park have been enlisted in the movement to raise more funds to pay for extra excavation, and Dean Bennett said yesterday morning, "Committees of business men are working this week raising this money to pay for the cost of extra excavation for enlarging the women's part of the building. The gym will be used by the residents of North Des Moines as a community center, where they can have all meetings and social gatherings."

The building is 134 feet long, 37 feet wide, and is to be 51 feet high, being constructed entirely of brick, the stability strength thus is assured.

On the ground floor, or rather the basement, four gyms have been laid out; one for the men 72x62 feet, one for the women 53x53 feet, and two smaller gyms, one for the men 18x72 feet, and one 18x58 feet for the women. These two latter gyms are so arranged to take care of field events like shot putting, broad jumping, high jumping and pole vaulting.

Shower baths and locker rooms for both men and women, as well as rooms for visiting teams, are on the ground floor. A steel spiral stairway leads to the main floor.

STUDENTS PROTEST GOVERNOR'S ACTION

Hold Monster Parade in Favor of Ousted President

New York, Oct. 12.—(By Exchange Service)—Four thousand of the 6,500 students of the University of Washington held a torchlight parade, as a protest against the ousting on Tuesday of their President, Dr. Henry Suzallo, by Governor Roland H. Hartley, whose five appointees on the board of regents relieved Dr. Suzallo of his duties.

Holding torches and red flares, and amid cries of "Strike", the protesting student body marched up to the president's house, posting notices of an impending strike on the doors of fraternity houses.

When they had gathered in front of his home, Dr. Suzallo urged them to refrain from further demonstrations, to attend classes and to consider the interest of the university. While a majority of the classes were held yesterday, a distinct falling off in the attendance was clearly visible.

Dr. Suzallo's deposition would seem to have been the outcome of a growing ill-feeling between him and Governor Hartley. This originated during the war when Suzallo, as chairman of the State Council of Defense, ordered an eight hour day for lumber workers, which Hartley, a timber man, opposed.

When Hartley was elected governor of the State of Washington, he immediately commenced to weed out members of the board of regents and to replace them by men of his own choice. Only two of the original seven members remained yesterday. Mrs. Ruth McKee of Kelso and John T. Hefferhan of Seattle. Both of them offered their resignations after Dr. Suzallo's deposition.

In a letter to the governor, Mrs. McKee protested against "his summary and unwarranted dismissal without a single charge against him and without giving him a hearing."

David Thompson, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, has been appointed acting president. Dr. Suzallo is a graduate of Stanford University. He has taught at his own college and at Yale and the University of California. For a short time he was an instructor at Columbia.

CIGARETTES HELP TO BUILD COLLEGE

Pierre, S. D. Oct. 12.—(By Exchange Service)—Smoke from cigarettes is building university buildings in South Dakota. The income from a state cigarette tax is used solely for the construction of buildings at the state's colleges and universities. During the fiscal year ending June 30, South Dakota smokers consumed enough cigarettes to erect a library for the state agricultural college at Brookings and a Physical Education Building for Northern Normal College at Aberdeen.

R.V.C. SPORTS AT STADIUM OCT. 22.

Keen Competition Expected From Contestants

The Annual R.V.C. Sports Meet will take place at 2 p.m. Friday, Oct. 22nd at the Molson Stadium. Practices for this event are being held all this week, and will take place, as far as possible behind the R.V.C. At these practices times will be taken and distances measured with the purpose of elimination. Only the best six or seven in each event will compete on the day of the Meet.

Tickets have been distributed among the different year managers, and it is hoped that each girl will do her part by disposing of at least one ticket.

Contestants from each year have entered and keen competition is expected. The year winning the greatest number of points gains one point towards the coveted R.V.C. Banner, and is also awarded the interclass shield for sports. Two cups are awarded; one to the individual winning the most points, the other to the best relay team. These cups are held for one year.

Last year two records were broken. Francis Stocking established a new record of 64 ft. 5 in. for the javelin throw, and Ruth Heartz cleared the window jump at 1 ft. 1 in.

Already many contestants are hard at work and the freshies prove promising. They will not, however, lack competition from the other years.

The following is the list of events:—

- (A). Track.
 1. 60 yd. dash.
 2. 100 yd. flat race.
 3. 220 yd. class relay (teams of 4).
 4. Hurdles.
- (B). Field.
 5. Running high jump.
 6. Running broad jump.
 7. Window jump.
 8. Javelin throw.
 9. Baseball throw.

A student may compete in 3 out of four jumps. One of these must be No. 7 and the list of jumps includes No. 4, which is listed under "track." She may also compete in 2 out of 4 track events. A single student, therefore, may enter five events in all. The relay race counts as one of these five.

turing McGill colours in the evening's delicacies.

Thousands of favors, serpentine, streamers, fancy headgear, and other contrivances for fun making during the evening are on order, so that there need be no fear as far as a lively, jolly, evening is concerned.

The remaining tickets will be sold to first comers today until all are gone. It will mark the first formal gathering of McGillites this season, and for that reason, undergrads should continue to display that old McGill spirit that started the "red boys" on a straight road for the intercollegiate rugby title this fall. Fall into line for the 'First Fall Frolic.'

CHESS CLUB MEETING

The first meeting of the McGill Chess Club will take place at 5 p.m. today in the Union Lounge Room. Activities will commence with the opening of this meeting. The president will welcome both old and new members and talk on the progress of the club for the past year will be given by the old officials. Immediately after which elections will be held.

The Club has made notable progress during the past year and has earned for itself an enviable position among the Chess Clubs of Montreal. Last year saw McGill come first in section B. and C. of the Montreal Chess League, its members winning several prizes, and earned for the club a city-wide reputation. Other interesting events were the correspondence games carried with the University of Oklahoma. These games will be finished in the near future.

Prospective members are invited to attend this meeting.

C.I.T. REGISTRATION OVER TWO THOUSAND

Figures Show Many Facts Regarding Mortality

Pittsburg, Pa. Oct.—(By Exchange Service)—The number of day students at Carnegie Institute of Technology now totals 2,259 according to enrollment figures for the first semester now made available by Alan Bright, Registrar. The figures show interesting facts concerning the distribution by classes and particular notice might be taken of the mortality rate. The classes are distributed approximately in the same ratio as those of the last few years. But the figures show a mortality rate of very nearly 25 per cent for each year in each class.

This percentage is particularly true for this year, as the Freshmen Class has 756, the Sophomores have 574, the Juniors 411, and the Seniors 304. The Freshmen class last year was very nearly the same size as that of this year. There is usually a great deal said about Freshman mortality, but the figures seem to prove that the rate of increase is about equal with all the classes.

Quite naturally the largest group entering is made up of Engineering and Industries students, who have 335 enrolled. Arts follows with 232, while Margaret Morrison has 189.

The largest Sophomore group is found in the College of Engineering with 192 students enrolled. Arts school follows with 164, while Margaret Morrison and the College of Industries have 116, and 102 respectively.

The following is the list of events:—

- (A). Track.
 1. 60 yd. dash.
 2. 100 yd. flat race.
 3. 220 yd. class relay (teams of 4).
 4. Hurdles.
